

15 Blue Green Paint Colors Designers Use for the Dreamiest Spaces

written by ASHLEY KNIERIM UPDATED FEB 26, 2021

Green and blue have both had their moments, but why not go for the best of both worlds? Blue green paints are perfect for creating a serene, tranquil vibe in any room in your house. From robin's egg to teal to turquoise, blue greens come in a variety of shades. And while they add a lot of vibrant color to your space, you don't have to take a risk to use them in your home—they work in traditional spaces just as much as they do in eclectic, bold ones.

- Color Family: Blues
- Complementary Colors: Oranges and reds
- Pairs Well With: Neutrals such as gray and white work well with bolder blue green hues
- Mood: Depending on the shade, blue green creates a serene, sophisticated vibe
- Where to Use: Anywhere. Blue green works in bedrooms, bathrooms, exteriors, and more

10 Benjamin Moore Narragansett Green

of 15

TRACY MORRIS DESIGN

Hunting for a great blue green that works just as well on your exterior as it does inside? Tracy Morris of Tracy Morris Design loves

"It is a great shade because it is the perfect balance of a deep green and blue, evoking a rich hue. I love using it on a front door to complement bluestone and the colors of nature," says Morris.

Though this color is rich and vibrant, it also feels traditional and classic at the same time, making it the perfect choice if you want a color that works in any home decor scheme.

Benjamin Moore Narragansett Green ($80)